Oji Holdings Selected for CDP “A List” in Forests for Fourth Consecutive Year — High Evaluation for Sustainable Forest Management

Oji Holdings Corporation (President: Hiroyuki Isono, Headquarters: Tokyo) is pleased to announce that it has been selected for the highest “A List” rating in the Forests (Timber) category by CDP*, an international non-profit organization engaged in environmental information disclosure, for the fourth consecutive year in 2025. This recognition reflects the company’s leadership in transparency and performance in the Forests sector.

Oji Holdings owns and sustainably manages approximately 636,000 hectares of forests both in Japan and overseas—one of the largest holdings among private companies in Japan (about three times the area of Tokyo). Through proper management of these forests and responsible procurement of wood raw materials, the company embodies its “Long-Term Vision 2035” and its commitment to contributing to sustainability. Being selected for the “A List” in the Forests category for four consecutive years signifies that Oji Holdings is recognized as a global leader for its comprehensive information disclosure, advanced environmental governance, and meaningful progress toward environmental resilience.

Going forward, Oji Holdings will continue to practice Nature-based Solutions through sustainable forest management and contribute to the realization of a sustainable global environment.

*About CDP \(Carbon Disclosure Project\):

CDP is a global non-profit organization established in 2000 that operates the environmental disclosure system for companies and municipalities. Working in partnership with financial institutions and institutional investors worldwide, CDP evaluates and discloses the environmental initiatives of companies and municipalities. By leveraging the power of capital markets and corporate purchasing, CDP leads action to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, advance water security, protect forests, and promote biodiversity. In 2025, 640 institutional investors with total assets of $127 trillion requested environmental information through CDP, and over 22,100 companies disclosed their data via CDP’s platform.
